Our customers:

It is Recorra's aim to provide a consistent, high quality service which meets the requirements and expectations of our customers at all times. This commitment to quality is based on the implementation of a Quality Management System which is certified to ISO 9001 and audited annually by a UKAS approved third party audit body. This system provides clear standards and guidelines for all areas of the company's activities. The Directors, Senior Management Team and all employees of Recorra are fully committed to a process of continuous improvement in all our products and services. We provide a wide range of added value services including launch days, seminars, waste management reports, waste audits and volunteering opportunities with our charity partners. We also aim to provide customers with a recycling option for all their waste. We have recently introduced a compostable waste stream and a SustainABLE box to collect hard-to-recycle items, in line with this objective.

Our employees:

As a service provider, our employees are our most valued asset. Recorra's Senior Management Team recognises that a passionate, motivated and happy workforce is paramount to our success, and in order to achieve this, has set out a number of areas for investing in our people.

• Learning and development - As an employer, we seek to ensure equality of opportunity and treatment in the recruitment, selection, retention, training and promotion of staff at all levels, and the adoption of flexible patterns of working.

• Rewards and team building - Each line manager has an annual budget available to spend on team building activities for staff. Rewards are available for employees who do well (outside of their normal performance related pay). Social events for the whole organisation are organised across all Recorra sites.

• Internal marketing, communications and engagement – Internal staff updates are presented on a regular basis by Company Directors along with quarterly staff newsletters and HR emails circulated by line managers. We carry out an annual staff survey which is anonymous and provides an opportunity for staff to be honest about how they feel about the company and their work-life balance. We take action points from the survey and these are implemented by the Senior Management Team over the course of the following year.

Giving back to our community:

At Recorra, a commitment to charity is part of who we are, not just what we do. We run a substantial annual program of donations to environmental charities and have donated over £350,000 since 2001. We recognise that helping charities to succeed is a collective effort and actively encourage customers, partners and staff to get involved. Recorra has five main charity partnerships which enable us to give back to the community:

• Friends of the Earth - Originally Paper Round) was started by Friends of the Earth and we retain strong links with the charity. Our Managing Director serves as Treasurer on the Friends of the Earth Charitable Trust Board.

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

• The Zoological Society of London (ZSL) - Recorra has a close relationship with the ZSL holding an annual donations ceremony and organising volunteering opportunities for staff to help out at the Zoo.

• Marine Conservation Society – we support their #STOPThePlasticTide campaign, which sees MCS lobby the government to reduce single-use plastics.

• Trees for Cities – For every new customer that starts recycling paper on our membership service, we fund the planting of 1 tree.

• FareShare - For each food waste bin collected, we donate enough for one meal to feed a vulnerable person.

• The Children's Literacy Charity – for every 10 PCs or laptops we collect, we donate the value of one tutoring session for a child at risk of illiteracy.

This will be achieved, in part, by a focus on three key areas. We will:

Reduce fuel consumption and carbon emissions

• Reduce the environmental impact of our fleet by running trials of new technologies and seeking enhancements in efficiency wherever possible

• Introduce electric vehicles into our fleet to replace our diesel vehicles

• Only use renewable electricity sourced from solar power, wind power, hydroelectric power and biofuels, so our electricity consumption is carbon neutral

Customers' waste and recycling

• Invest in the equipment at our Materials Recycling Facility in order to improve material sorting and reduce residual waste

• Work with customers to reduce non-target materials in their recycling. This will improve their recycling rates and in turn will also improve our MRF recovery rate

• Actively promote recycling and carbon reduction to our customers, suppliers and the wider community by delivering free seminars and knowledge swaps on sustainability topics

Work to improve the quality, accuracy and consistency of the sustainability data we report and mirror mandatory GHG reporting requirements

Increase employee awareness in environmental best practice

Raise awareness internally through our Sustainability and Wellness Action Group; educating staff at all our sites so they understand the link between our business activities and their environmental impact
Continue to train all drivers to improve fuel efficiency and introduce incentives to maintain gains in these targets and reduce the carbon intensity of our fleet operations

We communicate our Environmental Policy to customers and suppliers via our website, so that it is available to all stakeholders. This policy is reviewed on an annual basis by our management team.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES POLICY

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES POLICY

We are committed to:

• Creating an environment in which individual differences and the contributions of all our staff are recognised and valued.

• Every employee is entitled to a working environment that promotes dignity and respect to all. No form of intimidation, victimisation, bullying or harassment will be tolerated.

• Training, development and progression opportunities are available to all staff.

• Equality in the workplace is good management practice and makes sound business sense.

• We will review all our employment practices and procedures to ensure fairness.

• Breaches of our equality policy will be regarded as misconduct and could lead to disciplinary proceedings.

- This policy is fully supported by senior management.
- The policy will be monitored and reviewed annually.
- We will implement the intentions in this policy via an annual action plan.

We also recognise that the behaviours through which diversity is evident must be consistent with the values that underpin this policy document.

Additionally, we recognise that despite our best intentions circumstances may arise where we fail to provide an appropriate and professional service to people, consistent with the aims of this policy. We are committed to take action in such circumstances.

Purpose of the Policy

The aim of the policy is to ensure:

- fair recruitment and selection
- equal access to training opportunities
- · equitable terms and conditions of employment

· appropriate provision of services for different sections of the community

Scope of the Policy

Recorra seeks to ensure equality of opportunity and treatment in relation to all of its activities, both as an employer and as a service provider.

As an employer we will seek to ensure equality of opportunity and treatment in the recruitment, selection, retention, training and promotion of staff at all levels, and the adoption of flexible patterns of working. To this end we will develop personnel policies and practices that will demonstrate and further our commitment to Equal Opportunities.

Selection criteria and procedures will be designed, and outcomes monitored and reviewed, to ensure that staff are recruited and selected on the basis of their assessed merits and abilities when compared with the needs of Recorra. We will take care to ensure that applicants or potential applicants are not discouraged or disadvantaged by the adoption of any conditions or criteria which cannot be justified in terms of specific job requirements. Additionally, we will seek to attract, encourage and welcome applications from a wide range of people to enhance the diversity of our staff.

These commitments to staff will be reflected in the policies we produce.

Additionally, we will continue to develop and implement best practice through the establishment of and support for guidance notes on best practice. The development of these guidance notes will take account of relevant statutory Codes of Practice.

Implementation

Recorra will have policies and procedures that support and uphold this Equal Opportunities Policy. As a result, everyone can expect to be treated with fairness and for judgements to be made that respect their human rights and ensure natural justice. Decisions will be made with integrity following a process based upon transparent criteria.

Recorra will take action to communicate this policy to all staff, volunteers and others e.g. visitors, clients, contractors and suppliers of goods and services involved in its activities. We will continue to develop and implement programmes to ensure that all staff have received appropriate training to enable them to fulfil their responsibilities under this policy.

Consultation with and involvement of a wide range of stakeholders will be essential for ensuring that our equal opportunities policy and practice is effective. We also need to ensure that we gain feedback to ensure that the practical impact of our policy and practice does not result in unintended or unfair discrimination or in consequences that are contrary to the aims of this policy.

Recorra will develop policies, codes of practice and guidance to deal with specific aspects of the implementation of this Policy. These developments will take place against a clear and published action plan.

Employment

Recorra believes it must recruit the best person for the job and that discrimination prevents this from happening.

Because of past and existing discrimination, some people have missed out on chances to obtain qualifications or gain experience. This in turn can lead to restricted job and training opportunities, and further disadvantage groups already affected by discrimination. This means that some people are not able to compete for jobs on equal terms. Likewise, organisations may have inadvertently developed systems and styles of working which can prevent some people from achieving their full potential.

Recorra's Equal Opportunities Policy is there to assist in the elimination of discrimination and ensure fair treatment for all employees by:

• advertising all jobs in appropriate ways to ensure the widest possible response

- from all sections of the community
- examining recruitment procedures regularly to ensure people are selected on their abilities and merits
- offering fair terms and conditions of employment to employees
- ensuring facilities and practices are supportive of employees with family responsibilities

• providing equipment and facilities to enable people with a disability to obtain a job or continue working with Recorra.

Training

Training will play an important role in assisting employees to implement Recorra's Equal Opportunities Policy and in developing employees' skills and potential. All staff will receive training on Equalities and Diversity as part of their induction. All managers responsible for recruitment and selection will undertake additional Equalities and Diversity Training.

The purpose of training will be to

• inform employees of the purpose of the Equal Opportunities Policy

• provide employees, especially managers, with the skills and knowledge necessary to implement the policy

• encourage and enhance the skills of employees, particularly those from groups who have traditionally been under-represented in the work force.

Responsibility

All members of Recorra staff will take responsibility for their actions.

Specifically:

• The overall managerial responsibility for equal opportunities lies with the Managing Director.

• All managers and supervisors are responsible for ensuring that this Equal Opportunities Policy is implemented in their areas of responsibility.

• The Compliance & HR Director is responsible for taking action in relation to equal opportunities in employment matters, for monitoring the effectiveness of the policy and for ensuring appropriate provision of supportive staff development.

• All employees are responsible for ensuring that they act at all times in a way that is consistent with our equal opportunities policy. Individuals may be personally accountable should any complaint arise or in respect of breaches of policy.

• People not employed by Recorra but who play a part in its activities, e.g. visitors, clients, contractors and suppliers of goods and services will be made aware of our expectation that they will operate within the scope of this policy. We will expect contractors and suppliers to demonstrate their commitment through evidence of their own equal opportunities policy.

Responding to feedback

Recorra is committed to respond positively to constructive criticism and complaint in relation to equal opportunities. We recognise that making complaints and expressing concerns in relation to equal opportunities can be challenging. We will therefore develop specific advice and support to enable staff and volunteers to put forward their concerns effectively.

We will take appropriate action to protect volunteers and staff from discriminatory behaviour by any individual or groups within the organisation, or in the course of their duties. Allegations of discriminatory behaviour on the part of staff will be dealt with under the appropriate disciplinary or grievance procedure.

Dignity at work and harassment

At Recorra we endeavour to create a happy workplace where people feel accepted and comfortable. We therefore require that all our staff to behave professionally at work and give due respect for other people's right to be treated with dignity. If any member of staff is found to be breaching this through harassment or other behaviour likely to threaten others dignity at work then the Grievance and Disciplinary Procedures as set out in the Employment Contracts will apply.

Monitoring

The Compliance & HR Director will review relevant performance indicators and will make regular reports to the Managing Director. This report will review both progress against the action plan and make appropriate proposals for further development.

• Equality monitoring will be carried out to measure the effectiveness of the Recorra's Equal Opportunities Policy, to check the policy is working and act as a basis for future plans. Monitoring information will only be used for this purpose and will be treated confidentially.

• We will maintain and review the employment records of all employees in order to monitor the progress of this policy.

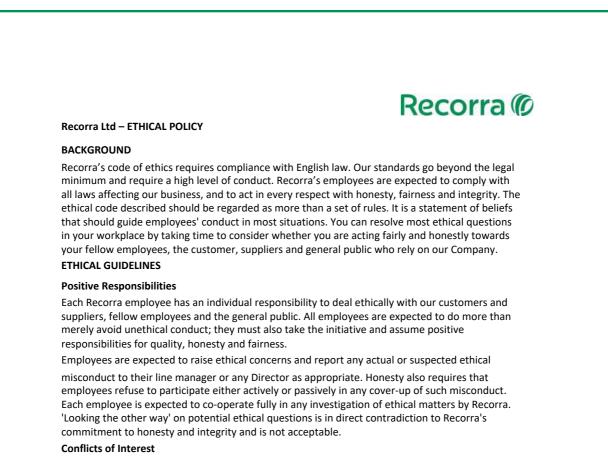

• We will monitor recruitment and selection procedures to ensure discrimination is not occurring.

MANAGING DIRECTOR

ETHICAL POLICY

Employees, their spouses and other close family members are expected to avoid outside interests or activities that could be advanced at the expense of Recorra's interests. Such involvement may divide an employee's loyalty between Recorra and the outside interest and create a potential conflict of interest. Non-Recorra business involvement with a competitor, supplier or customer is strictly prohibited. Such interest could affect an employee's objectivity in the promotion of Recorra interests.

Employees may not work for or provide advice or consulting services to a competitor, supplier or customer. Employees should not run any side business in their free time which will compete with, sell to, or buy from Recorra and should avoid any financial investments in competitors, suppliers or customers, other than nominal investments in public companies.

Receipt of Gifts

Gifts from suppliers, customers or competitors to Recorra employees raise the appearance, if not the reality, of dishonest or unfair dealings. It is Recorra's policy that all business decisions be made impartially and fairly, and not on the basis of gratuities offered to employees. No employee, or any of their family, may solicit or receive favours, gifts, loans or other benefits (including service and discounts as well as material goods) from any supplier, customer or competitor. The only exception to this policy is for casual entertainment or gifts (other than money) of nominal value which are customarily offered to others having a similar relationship with the supplier, customer or competitor. Recorra employees should exercise good judgement in deciding whether to accept a gift of nominal value or casual entertainment and should resolve all doubts and questions in favour of declining to accept the offer.

ETHICAL POLICY

Use of Recorra Resources

Each of us has a responsibility to use Recorra resources, including time, materials, equipment and proprietary information for Recorra business purposes only and not for personal benefit. Any such personal use, without proper permission, amounts to theft. Recorra property, such as vehicles, equipment and tools, office materials and facilities, are not to be used by employees other than for Recorra purposes. Use of such property in connection with community or employee social or personal activities may be authorised only by your line manager or a member of the Senior Management team.

All employee requests for reimbursement from Recorra whether for travel expenses, entertainment or other business-related items must be legitimate, properly documented and in accordance with policy.

All employees receive Recorra's business and technical information and know-how in trust and are expected to maintain such information in confidence and not disclose or use it other than for Recorra business and for Recorra benefit. This information includes, for example, names of customers, suppliers, employees, manufacturing processes and equipment, plant layout, engineering drawings, product development plans, information systems, business plans, financial and marketing information and all documents and data which relate to such items. All of Recorra's business and technical information and know-how is a part of the value of the Recorra. Employees are expected actively to protect these assets. Persons who use any of this information for their own personal gain or give or sell this information to outsiders will be dismissed and may be subject to prosecution.

Entertainment and Gratuities

Recorra believes that business decisions by its customers should be made solely on the basis of Recorra's quality, service, price and other competitive factors. Gifts and entertainment of nominal value are used to create goodwill with Recorra customers. If they go beyond this and make the customer feel obligated to offer any special consideration to Recorra, they are unacceptable. Recorra's policy is to avoid even the appearance of favouritism based on business entertainment or gratuities.

Employees should exercise good judgement and moderation and should offer gratuities to customers only to the extent they are in accordance with reasonable customs in the marketplace. Special consideration must be given in the case of gifts or entertainment offered to government employees. These rules may also apply to government prime contractors. Where there is any doubt about the standards prevailing, no gifts should be made.

Normal and reasonable entertainment of non-governmental customers and suppliers covered by standard expense account reporting is permissible when not contrary to applicable law or to the non-governmental customer's or supplier's own policy.

Payments to Third Parties

Payments should be made by Recorra to third parties only for services or products properly provided to Recorra. No Recorra employee shall make any direct or indirect payment in the nature of a bribe or payoff to secure or maintain business or for any other purpose to any government employee or the personnel of any customer, supplier or competitor.

In order to avoid even the appearance of improper payments, no payments are to be made by Recorra in cash, other than documented petty cash disbursements. No cheques are to be written to 'cash', 'bearer', or third-party designees of the person entitled to payment. Cash payments may never be made to employees of competitors, suppliers, customers or government agencies.

ETHICAL POLICY

Payments to employees, agents, consultants or others outside their country of residence are prohibited where they violate the laws of that country.

Marketing Practices

Recorra's policy is to comply with all competition and trade regulation laws and to use only ethical and proper methods to market Recorra products. All Recorra customers will be treated fairly and even-handedly, and no preferential trade terms or other treatment will be extended to any customer in violation of any law. To avoid the appearance of improper action, Recorra absolutely prohibits consultations with competitors regarding prices, customers or territories. Commissions and other payments must be adequately documented and reported to government authorities as required. Advertising must always be in good taste and all claims made in advertisements must be fully supportable.

Environmental Protection

Recorra fully supports the belief that each of us has a responsibility to protect the environment and human health. It is imperative that each Recorra employee accepts responsibility for the observance of laws and regulations governing the protection of the environment and human health. No individual will knowingly buy for use at Recorra, or dispose of, other than in accordance with the law, any chemical or other substance which is illegal. Managers are expected to keep up to date with all relevant laws and regulations concerning the protection of the environment, to seek professional guidance when necessary, and to assure observation of the laws and regulations. Recorra will continue to seek alternatives to hazardous methods, substances or products to assure protection of the environment and personal safety.

Individuals who knowingly violate any environmental law or regulation will be subject to dismissal. Accidental incidents which affect the environment are to be reported immediately to the appropriate outside authorities as well as to senior management.

Responsibilities to Employees

Recorra believes that all of its employees should have a safe workplace and equal opportunities for promotion and advancement. Recorra will comply with all health, safety and equal opportunities legislation and other similar laws and regulations. Recorra is committed to maintaining safe working conditions in all its facilities. Employees are expected to assume individual responsibility for safety procedures, following all necessary precautions, avoiding any activity that might endanger themselves or fellow employees, and notifying supervisors and management of any potentially dangerous conditions in the workplace. Management and supervisors are expected to promptly correct any serious safety hazards and to stop any activity involved until the hazard has been corrected.

Recorra's policy is that all its employees will enjoy a work environment free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment it totally unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favours and the creation of an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment through unwelcome sexual conversations, advances, jokes or suggestive objects or pictures. Any complaint of sexual harassment will be immediately investigated and appropriate action, which may include dismissal, taken.

Use of Alcohol and Drugs

Recorra is strongly committed to the prevention of illegal activities, and to the protection of its employees, property and the public, from any danger which might result from the use of drugs or alcohol. It is Recorra's policy to provide a safe drug-free and alcohol-free work environment.

ETHICAL POLICY

In the workplace, drug and alcohol abuse can create hazardous situations, lower productivity and can cause potential problems with third parties with whom Recorra does business. We must ensure we maintain the reputation of Recorra and its people as good, responsible citizens.

Use or possession of illegal drugs or alcohol during working hours or on Recorra premises is strictly forbidden and is cause for discipline up to and including dismissal. Employees reporting to work under the influence of drugs or alcohol are subject to discipline up to and including dismissal.

It is Recorra's policy to provide assistance to employees who seek the Company's help in overcoming any addiction to or dependence upon alcohol or drugs. Volunteering to participate in an employee assistance programme will not necessarily prevent disciplinary action for violations of the policy which have already occurred.

Reporting Practices and Financial Information

Whilst honest differences of opinion are expected, and can indeed be useful in examining all sides of an issue, we must base our action on facts, logic and fair play. We cannot use shaded opinions or distorted facts to justify actions, nor should we allow facts or opinions to be covered up to make a situation look different from what it really is. All reporting at all levels throughout the company must be factual and open.

Recorra's business integrity will be reflected in accurate and complete accounts and records.

Employees are responsible for ensuring the accuracy and reliability of Recorra's accounts. Fictitious, improper, deceptive, undisclosed or unrecorded accounts of funds or assets are a serious ethical abuse and illegal. It is Recorra's policy that all accounts and records conform to accepted accounting principles and to all applicable laws and regulations.

All transactions must be accurately documented and accounted for in Recorra's accounts and records. All entries must contain appropriate descriptions of the underlying transactions and no false or deceptive entries shall be made. No employee shall enter into any transaction with the understanding that it is other than as described in the supporting documentation. No employee shall participate in obtaining or creating false invoices, payroll records or other misleading documentation or inventing or using fictitious entities, sales, purchases, services, loans or other financial arrangements for any purpose. Recorra will not maintain or use any anonymous ('numbered') bank account or other account that does not identify Recorra's ownership.

Product Integrity

Strict product integrity is necessary for Recorra to achieve its quality objectives and to maintain its reputation for quality products. It is Recorra's policy never to wilfully conceal defective work or material, falsify records or make false certification or claims regarding its products. In some instances, particularly in connection with government contracts or subcontracts, it is necessary for employees to make specific product certifications, generate records and supply other information or statements concerning product integrity. It is unlawful to intentionally falsify such records for the purpose of misleading or defrauding the government or any other customer.

All employees are responsible for ensuring the integrity of the products under their control and for the accuracy of the documentation supporting the product integrity. Incidents of suspected or known concealment of defective work or material, or falsifications of records are to be immediately reported to management.

Industry Regulation

It is in all employees' interests to make a positive contribution to the reputation of our industry by supporting the industry's education and community relations programmes etc. as appropriate.

ETHICAL POLICY

Employees should also avoid all forms of publicity that will reflect negatively on the industry e.g. by refraining from disparaging or slandering our competitors and their products or services.

APPLICATION OF THE CODE

All employees are expected to be familiar with and to observe the ethical standards outlined in this code. Abuse of Recorra's ethical code may be grounds for dismissal and the abuser could be subject to legal action. Managers are responsible for ensuring the application of this ethical code by monitoring and enforcing the code within their areas. Application of the Code will be one of the performance standards by which all managers will be measured. All of Recorra's managers are expected to lead by example and communicate a real concern for the observance of these ethical guidelines.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Each of us should take pride in the high standard of conduct that has always identified us as Recorra employees. Let us resolve together to continue to be a company which will tolerate nothing less than complete honesty, fairness and integrity in our dealings with all individuals, social groups, businesses and government institutions that depend on us.

MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

C) COMMITMENT

Recorra acknowledges its responsibilities in relation to tackling modern slavery and commits to complying with the provisions in the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We understand that this requires an ongoing review of both our internal practices in relation to our labour force and, additionally, our supply chains.

Recorra does not enter into business with any other organisation, in the United Kingdom or abroad, which knowingly supports or is found to involve itself in slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour.

No labour provided to Recorra in the pursuance of the provision of its own services is obtained by means of slavery or human trafficking. Recorra strictly adheres to the minimum standards required in relation to its responsibilities under relevant employment legislation in the United Kingdom and in many cases, we exceed those minimums in relation to our employees.

D) SUPPLY CHAINS

We have a zero tolerance policy to slavery and human trafficking and expect all those in our supply chain and contractors to comply with our values.

In order to fulfil our activities, Recorra's main supply chains include those related to the supply of equipment, goods and services from various suppliers in both the United Kingdom and Europe. We understand that for some goods and equipment, Recorra's first-tier suppliers are intermediary traders and therefore have further contractual relationships with lower-tier suppliers.

E) POTENTIAL EXPOSURE

In general, Recorra considers its exposure to slavery/human trafficking to be relatively limited. Nonetheless, we have taken steps to ensure that such practices do not take place within our business, nor within the business of any organisation that supplies goods and/or services to us. Where possible we build long standing relationships with suppliers and make clear our expectations of business behaviour.

F) STEPS

Recorra carries out due diligence processes in relation to ensuring slavery and/or human trafficking does not take place in our organisation or supply chains, including conducting a review of the controls of our suppliers.

Recorra has not, to its knowledge, conducted any business with another organisation which has been found to have involved itself with modern slavery.

In accordance with section 54(4) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015, Recorra has taken the following steps to ensure that modern slavery is not taking place:

• We have transparent recruitment processes which are reviewed regularly, as well as robust procedures in place for the vetting of new employees. We ensure we are able to confirm their identity and that they are paid directly into an appropriate personal bank account.

MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we provide training to relevant members of staff. All Directors have been briefed on the subject.
We have in place systems to encourage the reporting of concerns and the protection of whistle blowers.

G) KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

Recorra has set the following key performance indicators to measure its effectiveness in ensuring modern slavery is not taking place within Recorra itself, or in its supply chains:

• Use of labour monitoring and payroll systems

• Level of communication and personal contact with the next link in the supply chain and their understanding of, and compliance with, our expectations

In the future we intend to:

• Put further measures in place to identify and assess the potential risks in our supply chains

• Review supplier contracts to include termination powers in the event that the supplier is, or is suspected, to be involved in modern slavery

H) POLICIES

Recorra has the following policies which further define its stance on modern slavery:

- Corporate Social Responsibility Policy
- Ethical Policy
- Sustainable Procurement Policy
- Equal Opportunities Policy
- Quality Policy
- I) SLAVERY COMPLIANCE OFFICER

MANAGULOS

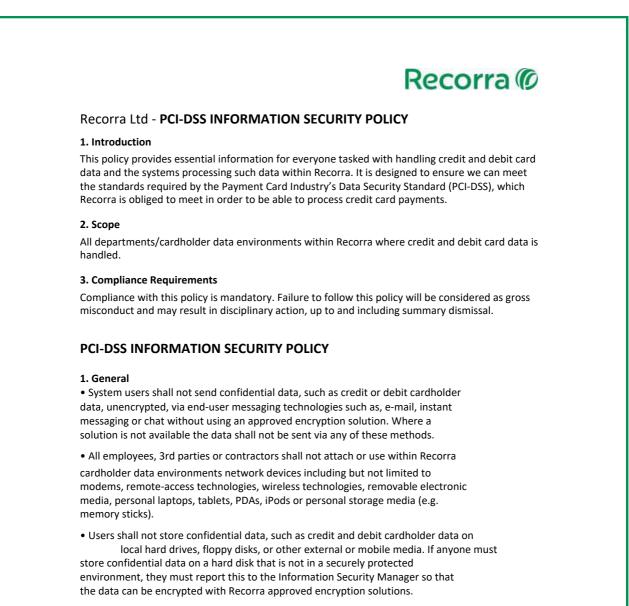

Recorra has a Slavery Compliance Officer, to whom all concerns regarding modern slavery should be addressed, and who will then undertake relevant action with regards to Recorra's obligations in this regard.

This statement is made in pursuance of Section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and will be reviewed for each financial year.

PCI DSS INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

• All employees, third parties or contractors are responsible for Recorra assets, particularly confidential data, that they use to carry out their function. Any suspicious activity or suspected breach in security must be immediately report to the Information Security Manager.

• Ensure documents containing credit and debit cardholder data are securely locked away.

2. Credit Card Handling

2.1. Scope

This section provides the minimum mandatory requirements that need to be applied to all employees that handle or come across credit or debit cardholder data, in any format within the Recorra environment. Furthermore, any third party that uses or accesses any of Recorra's credit cardholder data, either physically or logically must also comply with this section. It is not Recorra's intention to hold cardholder data, however, this section outlines what to do if such a situation arises.

PCI DSS INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

2.2. Policy Statements
2.2.1. General

Failure to protect card data can lead to large fines from banks, expensive investigations and litigation, loss of reputation and potentially the withdrawal of the ability to take payment by credit or debit cards

• No employees should handle cardholder data unless they have explicit authorisation to do so

• Cardholder data should only be handled in such a manner as is explicitly authorised by job roles.

2.2.2. Card Data Definitions and Requirements

• 'Credit Card Data' means most of the information on a Credit Card or Debit Card and includes the long 16 digit card number (Primary Account Number - PAN). It also includes the issue and expiry dates and the cardholder's name. The three digit security code on the back of the card is known as the Card Verification Value (CVV). The PAN must always be encrypted when electronically stored and the Cardholder data, if stored with the PAN must be protected.

• The CVV should be handled with great care and should never be written down or stored anywhere, whether on a piece of paper, a form, in a database, in a spreadsheet or any other electronic format, even if encrypted. The only exception to this is where you are taking a payment and need to store the CVV temporarily (pre-authorisation) whilst you arrange to take the payment. After the transaction has been authorised the CVV data must be destroyed immediately.

2.2.3. Card Data Handling Requirements

• Credit card data should NOT be stored within Recorra

• Credit card data is classified as confidential therefore if credit card data is stored for whatever reason it must be protected. If it is stored in systems, it has to be encrypted. If it is stored on paper it must be locked away at all times unless in use.

• Do not store credit card data on laptops, desktop computers, file shares, memory sticks, CDs or floppy disks unless these are on approved systems. If in doubt, do not store the data.

 Do not store credit card data in spreadsheets and other office documents, unless specifically required for your work, approved in writing by the Information Security Manager.

• Any card data on Recorra systems must be reported to the Information Security Manager immediately upon discovery.

2.2.4. Printing of Documents Containing Card Data

• There will be no cardholder data within RECORRA and therefore there will be no printing of cardholder data. Should cardholder data exist, printing of it is expressly forbidden.

2.2.5. Handling Documents Containing Card Data

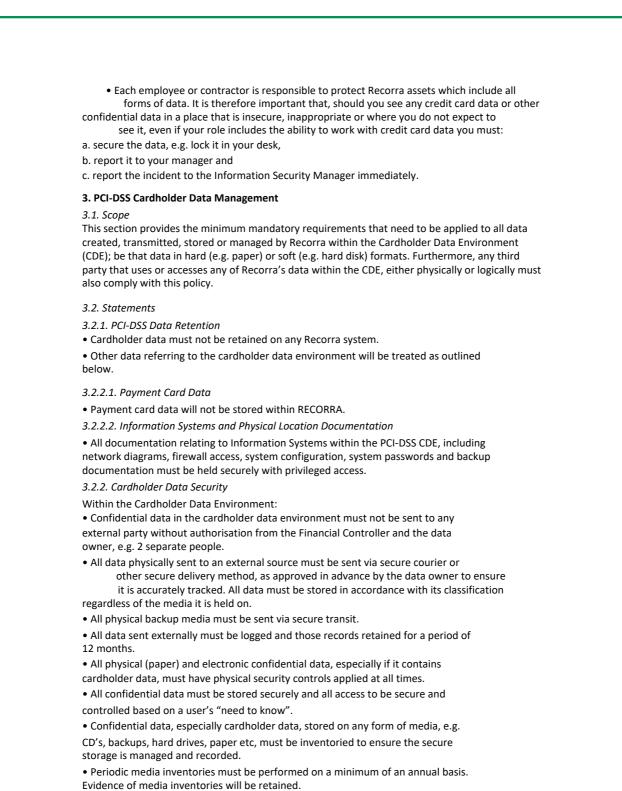

• There are cases where card data is legitimately stored on paper. This data needs to be retained only until the systems are back up again and card data can be processed electronically.

2.2.6. Vigilance and Awareness

• Credit card data can be inadvertently left on printers, fax machines, on a desk, on a screen, in a clear email (although this is against the PCI-DSS Data Management Policy), in the 'trash' or 'recycle bin' file on a computer, in a temporary file, memory swap files etc.

Recorra Ltd - SUSTAINABLE PROCUREMENT POLICY

Recorra is an established recycling and waste management company that by the nature of its work, has a positive impact on the environment. We recognize that procurement is a necessary part of conducting a business and through our ISO 14001 certified Environmental Management System, we strive to do this in a way which stimulates the market for more environmentally friendly and ethical products.

To enhance our sustainable procurement practices within Recorra we are pursuing the following actions as part of our sustainable procurement action plan:

1. Considering where we can eliminate the need to procure by rethinking our product requirements

2. Buying recycled products and products offering other environmental benefits when it is practical to do so, and actively seeking out these products on the market

3. Identifying a Green Procurement Champion and supporting other staff involved with procurement to make informed choices

4. When choices are not clear-cut, investigating the lifecycle of the options available to support decision making

5. Building sustainability into our contracted services

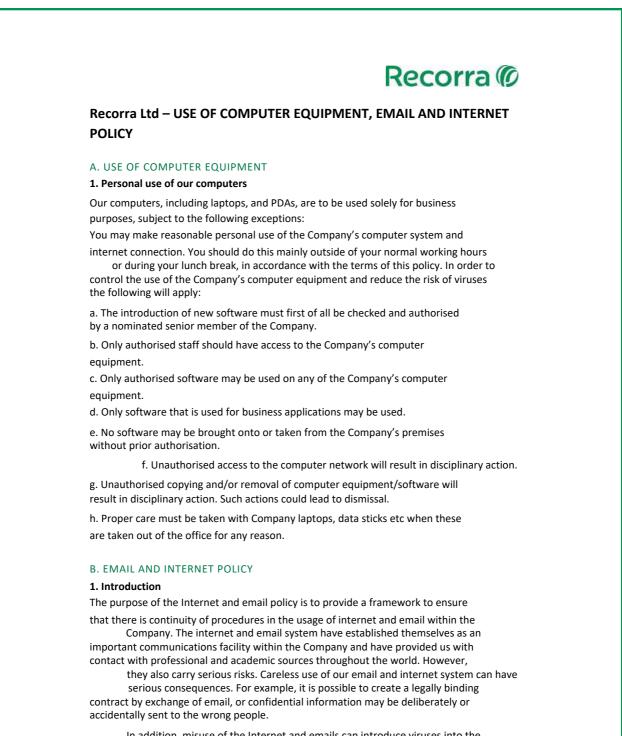

In addition to this, we will consider our performance when we assess the success of our business, and we will review this policy annually to ensure that we comply with our aim to always continually improve and ensure that it is communicated to all staff.

USE OF COMPUTER, EMAIL AND INTERNET POLICY

In addition, misuse of the Internet and emails can introduce viruses into the network, infringe copyright laws and result in the harassment or defamation of others. For these reasons, we have to impose limits on Internet and email use in relation to both business and personal use. Therefore, to ensure that we are able to utilise the system to its optimum we have devised a policy that provides maximum use of the facility whilst ensuring compliance with the legislation throughout.

USE OF COMPUTER, EMAIL AND INTERNET POLICY

2. Email

The use of the email system is encouraged as appropriate use facilitates efficiency. Used correctly it is a facility that is of assistance to employees. Inappropriate use however causes many problems including distractions, time wasting and legal claims. When sending emails, internally or externally, you should exercise the same care as you would if you were sending a letter on our headed paper.

The procedure sets out the Company's position on the correct use of the email system.

Please note that all Emails sent or received on the Company system may be monitored. Should you wish to send/receive personal Emails of a private and confidential nature you should use your own personal email account.

3. Procedures - Authorised Use

a. Unauthorised or inappropriate use of the email system may result in disciplinary action which could include summary dismissal.

b. The email system is available for communication and matters directly concerned with the legitimate business of the Company. Employees using the email system should give particular attention to the following points:

i) all comply with Company communication standards.

ii) Email messages should be kept concise and copies should only be sent to those for whom they are particularly relevant.

iii) Email should not be used as a substitute for face-to-face communication or telephone contact. Abusive mails must not be sent. Hasty messages sent without proper consideration can cause upset, concern or misunderstanding.

iv) if email is confidential the user must ensure that the necessary steps are taken to protect confidentiality. The Company will be liable for infringing copyright or any defamatory information that is circulated either within the Company or to external users of the system.

v) offers or contracts transmitted by email are as legally binding on the Company as those sent on paper. It is possible to create legally binding contracts without intending to via email correspondence. Email must not be used for communications that could lead to a binding contract being formed or which would have the effect of obligating the Company in any way, unless you have the clear authority to make the commitment in question.

Remember, a typed name at the bottom of an email is the same as a signature on a letter.

c. The Company will not tolerate the use of the email system for unofficial or inappropriate purposes, including:-

i) transmitting copyright information.

ii) passing on confidential information about other employees, the Company or its customers or suppliers.

d. You must not send, forward, distribute or retain email messages that contain language that is abusive, aggressive, obscene or offensive. You must not make any improper or discriminatory reference to the protected characteristics of a person when writing emails and must not forward or distribute any material which does so. Protected characteristics are race, religion or belief system, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender-reassignment and disability. Doing so may amount to gross misconduct. A good rule of thumb is to ensure that you never put something in an email that would offend or embarrass any reader or yourself. Always remember that an email might be seen by someone other than the intended recipient.

4. Internet

Where appropriate, duly authorised staff are encouraged to make use of the internet as part of their official and professional activities. Attention must be paid to ensuring that published information has relevance to normal professional activities before material is released in the Company name. Where personal views are expressed a disclaimer stating that this is the case should be clearly added to all correspondence. The intellectual property right and copyright must not be compromised when publishing on the Internet. The availability and variety of information on the Internet has meant that it can be used to obtain material reasonably considered to be offensive. The use of the Internet to access and/or distribute any kind of offensive material, or non-related employment issues, leave an individual liable to disciplinary action which could lead to dismissal.

5. Inappropriate Websites

You must not under any circumstances access inappropriate or offensive websites or distribute or obtain similar material through the Internet or email when using our equipment, even in your own time. Examples of inappropriate or offensive material include racist material; pornography; sexually explicit images, text and related material; the promotion of illegal activity or intolerance of others. Doing so will amount to gross misconduct. In addition, you must not access gambling sites or pirated copyright material.

The Company retains the final decision as to whether it considers particular material to be inappropriate under this policy.

As a general rule, we would regard material to be inappropriate if any person in the Company might be offended by any of the contents or if the Company would be embarrassed if it were known that its software had accessed the particular web pages. If you are unsure whether we would consider particular material to be appropriate, do not access it or distribute it.

If you receive material which contains or you suspect contains inappropriate material or you inadvertently access such material on the Internet, you must immediately report this to your Line Manager. Do not under any circumstances forward the material, show it to anyone else or otherwise distribute it.

6. Virus Protection Procedure

The introduction of a virus into our computer system could be devastating. We have installed antivirus software but this does not guard against all viruses. You should be aware that viruses can be introduced via email attachments, USB memory sticks and the Internet.

In order to prevent the introduction of virus contamination into the software system the following must be observed: -

a. It is your responsibility to take care when opening email attachments, especially when they are not expected or they are from unknown sources. If you are in any doubt about an attachment, please contact Transpeed who will check whether it is safe to open the attachment. You must never open attachments ending with '.exe' without first obtaining clearance from Transpeed.

b. You should not install any software that has not been approved or purchased by the Company, nor should you download any material, including games and screen savers, from the Internet or USB memory sticks without first obtaining the approval of Transpeed.

USE OF COMPUTER, EMAIL AND INTERNET POLICY

C. SECURITY

You are responsible for the security of the equipment allocated to you and must not allow it to be used by anyone other than in accordance with this policy.

1. Wireless technology

Everyone who has a Company laptop will be advised by Transpeed whether it can be used via wireless technology. This is only allowed if the appropriate security software and encryption are in place.

2. Travelling

Given the amount of confidential information which is accessible on our equipment, you must take sensible precautions when you take laptops and PDAs out of the office. In particular, you must never leave one of our laptops or PDAs on view inside a vehicle. If you have to leave such an item unattended in a vehicle, it must be locked away in the boot or glove compartment. If you are travelling on public transport or are in a public place, keep your laptop or PDA with you at all times or, if this is not possible, in sight. Remember that thieves specifically target laptop-carrying cases.

If you are working in a public place, be aware that other people may be able to read documents that you are working on.

3. Passwords

You should not use another person's password without authorisation and you should not tell anyone (other than Transpeed or your Line Manager) your password, unless there is a pressing business need to do so. You must log out of your computer when you are not using it and when you leave the office. For the avoidance of doubt, on termination of your employment for whatever reason, you must provide details of all your passwords.

4. Email security

It is very easy to send an email to the wrong person. You should be very careful to ensure that the emails you send are correctly addressed, particularly when they contain information that you would not want others to see.

Remember that email is not a secure way of sending information. Emails can be intercepted by third parties and intended recipients can alter and/or forward emails without your knowledge. You should therefore avoid sending by email personal information about individuals or commercially sensitive information.

Remember that deletion from your inbox or archives does not mean that emails are destroyed, and at times we may need to retrieve them. Email messages may be disclosed in legal proceedings in the same way as paper documents.
